STATE WILL AID IN MCKINLEY AVE. SURFACING HERE

Council Will Be Asked To Approve Proposal For Street Improvement

State assistance will be given the city in the resurfacing of McKinley ave., provided city council approves such plans it was revealed today. The recommendation will be submitted to council Tuesday night, it was announced today by the board of control, which met to consider the proposal. The state's decision was received by Mayor Phil G. Hiddleston after he had asked the department for assistance in the street's improvement. He informed the department in his letter that it would be unfair to throw the entire cost on the taxpayers, as the street is used much by state traffic, being the entrance to a state highway.

Shortly after he had entered his request, the state's reply was received. Assistance in the improvement is promised if council sees fit to accept it. The city officials hesitated at first to delegate the improvement of a city street to the state, but the proposition was so favorable, it is said, that it is believed that council will pass favorably on the action.

Severe Sunburn cause Of Death of Child

Martins Ferry, O., July 12.—Six-year-old Harold Schmeiser was dead here today, the victim of sunburn sustained while on a Fourth of July picnic at Adena, Ohio. Physicians who examined the child said he was seared as though he had been burned by flame. The blistering rays of the sun on Independence Day were believed to have induced intestinal trouble which resulted fatally.

NELLIE ROSS TO CAPTAIN WOMEN

New York, July 12.—Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, today was named chairman of the women's division of the Democratic national committee by John J. Raskob, national chairman of the party. Mrs. Ross succeeds Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Washington. Raskob also announced the appointment of Mrs. Florence G. Farley of Kansas, as vice chairman of the women's division. The appointments were the first made by the new national chairman since his election yesterday. Both women are vice chairmen of the national committee.

Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Farley arranged to confer this afternoon at Democratic headquarters, with other national committeewomen, to map out plans to get the women's vote out for Gov. Smith next November.

RASKOB CHOICE DEMS' BID FOR BUSINESS VOTE

Brand New Party Makes Its Bow Without Any Bryan Remnant

AL IN CONTROL;
LIQUOR IS ISSUE

How Motors executive was Selected Is Told By Friends of Smith

New York, July 12.—A brand new Democratic party, shorn of the last vestige of the old Bryan fringe, made its bow to the country today. In the driver's seat is Gov. Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 nominee, and beside him sits as national chairman John J. Raskob, who has been not inapropriately called "a second Judge Gary" as a spokesman for so-called big business. It is a wholly new Democratic party at the top—friendly instead of hostile to big business, frankly and avowedly wet at the top, sympathetic with the plight of agriculture—and it gives promise of conducting a bold, well-organized and amply-financed campaign for the presidency.

Accepts Work's Challenge
Gov. Smith's audacious move in selecting Raskob to conduct his campaign was described by his friends today as his acceptance of the challenge thrown down by Dr. Hubert Work, the Republican national chairman, to make the tariff and prosperity one of the great issues of the campaign.

As head of the great General Motors corporation, which shares with Standard Oil and the steel corporation, the distinction of being the biggest of the big businesses in America; as a close associate of the great Dupont interests; as director in a dozen great business organizations, nobody could be more interested than Raskob in a protective tariff and the full dinner pail. Gov. Smith's friends pointed out today. Let Raskob's nomination stand, they said, as the Smith acceptance of the Republican challenge.

Old School Leaders Groggy
Some of the southern and western Democrats of the old school were still a bit groggy today from the surprise of seeing a great business captain of Raskob's type and affiliation in the party saddle. Some of them were shaking their heads, too, but on the whole they appeared to be willing to give the new order of things a trial.

An interesting story was told today of how Gov. Smith came to make the final choice of Raskob. The scene was in the governor's suite on the fourteenth floor of the Baltimore hotel. A smoke filled room with a dozen men present. The hour was 3 a. m. They had been talking for hours, juggling with names and theories.

Finally, Gov. Smith removed his cigar, arose, and according to one who was present, spoke substantially as follows:

How He Picked Raskob
"In 1924, Mr. Coolidge, a Republican carried this state by an overwhelming majority. I, a Democrat, carried it too. But Mr. Coolidge carried it notwithstanding the admitted great ability and outstanding character of John W. Davis. It puzzled me then and it puzzles me now how Mr. Coolidge could carry (Continued on Page 4)

THREE VIOLENT STARK DEATHS

Justus Man Is Suicide; Wayneburg Youth Is Shock Victim

Canton, July 12.—A suicide, accidental electrocution and death due to heart attack were recorded at the coroner's office here today. David Reese, 42, of Justus, near here, believed dependent upon the death of his mother and twin brother, is thought to have fatally shot himself with a revolver. His body was found in a garage with a bullet wound in the breast.

Geno Dorn, 18, employee of Fire-Proofing company at Wayneburg, was found dead today by fellow workmen who said he had stepped into water charged with electricity. George W. Kinsley, 69, former treasurer of the Ohio Fire Chiefs association, died of a heart attack at his home in New Philadelphia.

Gets 20-Year Term On Shooting Charge

Ironton, July 12.—Albert Aker, Ironton, today was facing a 20-year sentence in the penitentiary after being found guilty by a jury here yesterday on an intent to kill charge. Akers shot Marshal William Barr, Hanging Rock, when the latter attempted to arrest him on a charge of assault and battery. Akers was alleged to have assaulted James Smith, 17-year-old High school boy, when Smith visited Akers' home to take a school census.

Anti-Saloon League Superintendent Predicts Worse Condition Than Repeal If Dem Nominee Wins; Anti-Prohibition Groups List Backers

Washington, July 12.—The first gun in the anti-saloon league's expected battle against Governor Smith was sounded today by General Superintendent F. Scott McBride in a public statement predicting "a condition worse than repeal" would follow election of the Democratic nominee in November.

"The election of such a candidate as Al Smith," McBride said, "would materially aid the liquor criminals of the country by wantonly handicapping the enforcement of the law, by the appointment of complaisant judges and blind-tiger officials, thus bringing about a condition worse than repeal."

"Any argument of the Smith partisans that their candidate could not injure prohibition is as false as the usual Tammany camouflage; any statement to the effect that any dry leaders or active dries have been deceived by this Smith propaganda is absolutely false."

GREENFORD MAN WILL RECOVER

Binsmore Better Today; Body of Baxter Will Be Taken to Home

Louis Binsmore, 29, of Greenford, who was injured while working at the new Reilly grade school Wednesday, is reported to be in an improved condition today and will recover, physicians say. The body of William Baxter, 32, of Shenandoah, Pa., who was killed, was removed to Stark's funeral home and will be taken to his home. His mother survives him.

Baxter, who has been staying in Greenford, was fatally injured, and Binsmore suffered lacerations and several broken ribs when a large I-beam which they were connecting with another beam became disconnected.

Baxter, it is said, may have been overcome by the heat, at the time the beam slipped, falling head first on an iron beam 12 feet below on the first floor of the school. No confirmation of the report could be obtained. His skull was crushed in the fall. He died at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the City hospital.

Binsmore jumped from the beam when it slipped, landing in the basement, a fall of 24 feet. Workmen at the school state that Baxter had been complaining of the heat, and just previous to climbing to the top of the beam, from where he fell, had tied a water-soaked handkerchief around his head, hoping to be relieved. They were unable to make any other explanation of his fall.

New York Central To Issue Stock

Washington, July 12.—The interstate commerce commission today authorized the New York Central railroad to issue $42,158,300 of new capital stock consisting of 421,583 shares. The stock is to be sold to the road's stockholders at not less than $100 per share.

HOOVER TO USE WET ISSUE ONLY IN FEW STATES

Prohibition and Farm Aid To Be Handled Locally Where They're Big

STICK TO TARIFF
IN NATION DRIVE

Nominee Will State His Personal Views In Acceptance Speech

Washington, July 12.—The Republican party, in its efforts to place Herbert Hoover in the White House, will make Republican prosperity, the tariff and the business record of Republican administrations the outstanding issues of the coming campaign, it was learned today at Hoover headquarters.

The farm relief and prohibition issues will be handled locally in states where each commands widespread popular attention while Hoover himself will announce his personal views on both subjects in his speech of acceptance at Stanford university, Calif., on August 11.

Neither issue, however, will be carried to the people as a party doctrine unless developments necessitate a change in the present campaign policy.

See Hard Fight Ahead
The action of Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic nominee, in naming John J. Raskob, chairman of the finance committee of General Motors, as the new Democratic national chairman, only solidified sentiment in the Hoover camp for a campaign on business issues. The Hoover leaders looked upon Raskob's election as a shrewd solicitation of business support for the Democratic nominee, which will require heroic Republican efforts to circumvent.

The greatest asset to the Republican party in such a campaign, it was believed at Hoover headquarters, would be Hoover's personal record as a business man, engineer, administrator and executive. The Republican nominee's handling of business affairs in the department of commerce, his tremendous success in promoting foreign trade while in the cabinet and his handling of vast relief problems will be stressed throughout the campaign. Special efforts likewise will be made to organize business men's clubs and to interest in behalf of Hoover, the thousands of business men who seldom take an active interest in politics.

Say Dems Score First
Hoover leaders were nonplussed by the Raskob appointment. They would not comment on publication but several party spokesmen indicated they felt the Democrats had scored first blood in the coming campaign. The action of Raskob in accepting the appointment, it was felt, would be locked upon in business circles as an endorsement of Smith by one of the great industrial groups of the country.

The action of Raskob, however, in declaring that Smith, if elected president, would take steps to modify the prohibition law, was welcomed by the Hoover leaders. They seemed to favor having the Democrats take the wet side of the prohibition issue, so it can be used in the south and dry western states. The party's policy, however, in eastern states and particularly on the most Atlantic seaboard will be determined by Hoover himself and announced in his acceptance speech.

INVENTOR AND ACTRESS DEAD

Compass Perfector, Movie Comedienne Killed As Plane Crashes

Snyders, Pa., July 12.—Morris M. Titterton, who made flying safe for others, and Patricia Perry Andrews (Patricia Perry), motion picture comedienne to whom he was reported to have been engaged, were killed in an airplane crash here when their plane crashed on a mountainside during a thunderstorm.

Titterton, a well-known maker of aeronautical instruments, invented the earth inductor compass which made possible the trans-Atlantic flight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. He lived in Brooklyn.

Mrs. Andrews lived in Williamsport, Pa. She was a divorcee and is survived by a four-year-old son. Titterton had made out $10,000 in insurance policies to her.

Both were killed instantly. Witnesses said the plane was tossed about like a feather by heavy winds.

The program for the concert will be announced Saturday.

Four British Rail Systems In Crisis

London, July 12.—The four great British railroad systems, in which more than $5,000,000,000 of capital is invested, and which employ more than 1,000,000 men, are face to face today with the most serious economic crisis of their long and checkered history.

Their earnings have never been so low and their operating costs so high. Drastic remedies are being considered for improving the situation. The four great British rail groups are the Great Western; the London, Midland and Scottish; the Southern; and the London and North-eastern.

Joked On Drowning, Friends Won't Heed Third Call For Aid

Columbus, July 12.—Mrs. Irene Rothwell, 25, is a drowning victim here today, the result of her own joke, according to police reports.

Twice she called for help while swimming in Big Walnut creek, near here, late yesterday, her friends reported. Twice they came to her aid to learn she was "just joking."

When she called a third time, her friends gave no heed. Her body was recovered.

COOPER TELLS HOW TO SOLVE FARM PROBLEM

Candidate Speaker Today Before Kiwanis Club Of Lisbon

"There will always be a farm problem yet to be solved of far-reaching importance to all of our citizens as long as it takes two and one-half men on farms to earn as much as one man in industry, and so long as one-third man-power in the nation has to raise food necessary to feed the nation and receive but 13 per cent of the national income."

Myers Y. Cooper, of Cincinnati, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, made that assertion today in his address before the Lisbon Kiwanis club at Pine Tree Inn, north of Lisbon.

Mr. Cooper discussed two phases of Kiwanis commitments, child welfare and agriculture. He dwelled at considerable length on the latter phase, and also touched upon taxation matters.

The candidate set up the fact that this nation has not four per cent of the farmers of the world, but raises such a large portion of many of the leading crops. He cited statistics in regard to these crops. The return of the farmer, he said, is below the average received by men in industry.

Industry Feels Effect
"It is a matter much broader than just a farm problem," declared Mr. Cooper. "It is also a matter for industry to heed, because the farmer has 25 per cent of the purchasing power of the nation and buys everything that labor produces."

"Whenever he is going opposite to progress, it simply means that many men will be thrown out of work producing what the farmer wants."

Mr. Cooper declared that the high cost of government is one of the great burdens which are distressing the farmer today. He pointed out that the farmer is paying as much in taxes as he receives from his wheat crop.

"What agriculture and industry alike want is constructive legislation," said Mr. Cooper. "In this way agriculture and industry may be on a parity of benefits."

He said that in state government, there is an opportunity to broaden greatly the activity of the department of agriculture to help the farmer in a marketing program on diversification and character of his product and in the very vital need of preventing the dumping of his crop.

Mellon and Morgan Sail On Same Ship For Europe Today

New York, July 12.—Somewhere near a billion dollars in actual American wealth, and only Wall Street knows how much potential wealth, sailed out of New York harbor today on the White Star liner Majestic.

It was embodied in two men, one tall, corpulent and silent; the other diminutive, shy and silent. The tall one was J. Pierpont Morgan; the diminutive one was Andrew W. Mellon.

They were passengers on the same ship—both holiday bound. Morgan is going to England; Mellon to France.

TWO DROWN IN BEAVER CREEK

East Liverpool, July 12.—The body of William Klagaske, 52, of this city, who was drowned in a heroic but futile attempt to save the life of his step-daughter, Mrs. John Shannon, 26, of Midland, Pa., was recovered today.

Mrs. Shannon, while swimming in Beaver Creek at Fredericktown, near here yesterday, was swept beyond her depth.

Her screams brought Klagaske who attempted to aid the struggling woman but both were drawn under and drowned. The woman's body has not yet been found.

Miner Is Killed

Cadiz, July 12.—Funeral arrangements were being made today for Harold Caples, 27, of Newport, a miner at the Rose Valley mine near here, who was killed yesterday by a slate fall at the mine.

GAVE HIM SEAT SO HE'S MEMBER SAYS SOLICITOR

Ineligible For Election, But Claims Solons May Judge Qualifications

POINTS TO STATE
CODE FOR PROOF

Rollins' Votes On Year's Legislation Have No Effect, Is Stand

Votes cast by Councilman Frank L. Rollins will have no effect on legislation passed by the council, City Solicitor Cecil K. Scott announced today.

Scott said that "council's action in seating Rollins was conclusive. It is a regular member of the body since council is the sole judge of the qualifications of one of its members."

He stated that, because he is a regular member of the council, his vote on legislation, were he to be unseated, would have no legal effect. His position as councilman cannot be attacked relative to the passing of legislation.

In his opinion, little action can be taken to unseat the school janitor.

Interpretations Differ
Andrew Foster, deputy head of the bureau of inspection and supervision of public offices, has ruled that Rollins' election to office is void.

Atty. Gen. E. C. Turner, in an opinion sent to City Auditor Helen Woerther, sided with Foster, saying that "under the provisions of Section 4218 of the General Code, a person holding the position of janitor in a public school is ineligible to membership of a council."

Scott cited a ruling of the General Code which stated that "council is the sole judge of the qualifications of one of its elected members."

The controversy over Rollins' legal right to hold his post as a "regular" member was also settled by Scott, who repeated that council's action in permitting him to take office made him a regular member.

Charles Baker, former first ward councilman resigned to accept a position as special patrolman, last December. It was assumed by some persons that, through Rollins' alleged illegality to hold office, the office is still "vacant."

Sees No Ouster Move
Scott, however, states that he is a regular member.

City Auditor Helen Woerther is expected to ask the solicitor for legal opinion on Rollins' status as a councilman, today by letter. The matter was discussed by Miss Woerther and Scott several months ago but no formal opinion was given.

The almost perfect accord of council in all of its legislation is cited by Scott as his reason for believing that there would be no action to force Rollins from office.

Scott refused to mention any method by which Rollins might be able to collect his monthly pay check and refused to commit himself on the question whether Rollins is entitled to compensation.

He stated that it had been his opinion that Rollins had been ineligible for the election, but now that he has been seated, he is a regular member.

KOON MUST DIE JURORS DECIDE

Slayer of Marion Farmer Guilty, Is Verdict; To Be Sentenced Today

Marion, July 12.—Everett Koon, 30, of Athens, today faced pronouncement of a death sentence following a verdict of guilty, with no recommendation of clemency, returned by the jury in common pleas court here yesterday. Koon had been on trial on a first-degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Henry Foos, 73-year-old farmer at his home near here on May 29.

The jury deliberated a little more than two hours after Koon's fate had been placed in its hands. A signed confession of Koon's was introduced and admitted as evidence at the trial.

Foos was attacked in his home near Marion by Koon, who struck the aged man over the head with a large stone and robbed him of $700. It was alleged, Mrs. Foos, 70, was killed by the assailant when she sought to aid her husband. Foos died a few hours later, but Mrs. Foos recovered and identified Koon at the trial as her husband's slayer.

COUNCIL SEAT VACANT

According to City Auditor Helen Woerther, Frank L. Rollins will not receive compensation as councilman representing the First ward until she has received from state officials proof of his eligibility to hold city office. For more than three months she has a ruling from the attorney-general of Ohio to the effect that Rollins is ineligible. Since March 30 she has had on file in her office a letter from the state bureau of inspection which cites the section of the general code specifically stating that a member of council shall not hold any other public office or employment. That letter also declares that Rollins' election is void and that he is not entitled to compensation.

Those two opinions should be sufficient to sustain Miss Woerther in her refusal to issue a monthly pay check to the First ward councilman. They constitute ample proof that Rollins is not entitled to his seat in council. The only mistake the city auditor made was in withholding this information. For six months Rollins has held his seat in council, casting his vote on many important pieces of legislation. Whether some of that legislation will be considered illegal, in the light of the councilman's status as a member, is the serious problem that confronts the city. If his vote were necessary to pass the legislation, it is quite likely that the legality of council's action will be questioned. If he continues to occupy his seat and cast his vote on important matters, future legislation also may be placed in jeopardy.

The only conclusion that may be drawn from the ruling of the state officials is that Councilman Rollins' seat has been vacant ever since the present council was organized the first of January. Nothing is to be gained in his continuing to occupy his seat. As a matter of fact, much in the way of legislative progress may be lost. Under the ruling of the state officials that he is ineligible to membership, his election is void, and council cannot fill such a vacancy. Apparently only a special election will suffice, but it may be possible for council to continue without representation from the First ward until the next municipal election. No official ruling has been given as to procedure in filling such a vacancy or permitting it to continue, but council members should request such a ruling immediately. Too many public improvements are at stake to countenance further delay or to ignore the situation entirely.

Mr. Rollins has served the city faithfully in many capacities. Previous to his election as councilman last November he had had much experience in city council and established a record as a most capable official. In the present organization his counsel has been sought by other members and he has performed his duties with credit to himself.

It is unfortunate that a man of such capabilities should be barred from council after the voters of his ward elected him to that post. But it would be far more unfortunate and possibly disastrous to the city should his ineligibility be responsible for legal entanglements that would delay or disrupt the city's improvement program.

The state has ruled that Mr. Rollins' seat in council is vacant. Serious thought should be given to the proper method of correcting that situation without much delay.

What Others Say

POLITICS AND BUSINESS

At the opening session of a National Sales and Distribution conference in New York, Charles M. Schwab declared: "I'd like to see the political party that attacks business because it is prosperous and because it pays the wages that it does."

That was one shot. Here is another: "It is generally recognized now that high purchasing power and prosperity came from high wages. I am not afraid that politics is going to hurt business."

The proclamations of convention platforms do not disturb Mr. Schwab. He sees trade safe from politics and asserts that all parties want prosperity, and should they not?

The distinguished president of the board of directors of the Bethlehem Steel company urges modification of the Sherman anti-trust law so that manufacturers may legally supervise the distribution of their own products without fear of prosecution by the federal government.

For the information of Communist philosophers, it might not be amiss to give some of the figures quoted by Mr. Schwab in connection with the steel industry. In the last few years, said Mr. Schwab, the Bethlehem company has spent $60,000,000 in bettering its processes. After four years it has been found that the cost of production has been reduced seven dollars a ton, but that the steel has been sold for an average of less than eight dollars a ton—eight dollars less than before the company started its program of improvement. There is, he says, from $5,000,000,000 to $5,500,000,000 invested in the steel industry, and as a whole, it is not earning 5 per cent on the investment. Soap box orators and publishers of radical incendiaryism, perhaps, on an average make more than that.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A SPLENDID EXAMPLE

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is giving the world something to think about in his strict interpretation of the code of responsibility. Scion of one of America's oldest families, he engaged in the newspaper business against the wishes of his parents. Due to lack of sufficient operating capital, his three ventures failed. Thousands of persons had taken stock in his three newspapers and young Vanderbilt was faced with the fact that besides the loss of all of his personal fortune he had indirectly caused these investors a loss of some $2,000,000. Although there was no legal responsibility, he decided that he would set himself straight before the country and those who had trusted him, and has just signed a unique legal document which places a $1,000,000 inheritance in trust for his stockholders. He had previously raised more than $900,000, which he promptly turned over to them.

In taking this action, Mr. Vanderbilt is upholding the traditions of a pioneer American family. Great names have great responsibilities, and this scion of wealth and society is meeting his face to face like a man. It is decidedly refreshing to note a case such as this in these days when stories of sordid commercialism make up a large part of the day's news.—Washington Star.

WRONG FOOD GIVES DANDRUFF A HOLD

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

United States Senator From New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Of all the diseases attacking the skin, dandruff is the most common. It is known to the medical profession as "pityriasis capitis." Pityriasis is derived from a Greek word meaning "bran." So you see the medical term is wisely chosen. "Bran like scales of the head" is a term well describing the trouble.

There are diseases attacking other parts of the body which are similar to dandruff. Multitudes of scales form. When they are brushed off, more scales appear.

A disease forming scales in the hair becomes doubly disagreeable. It cannot be dealt with as it can on exposed surface. The scales pile up on the scalp, cling to the roots of the hair, and produce a disagreeable "meas."

In dandruff if the scales are permitted to accumulate, there will follow more irritation and itching of the scalp. This makes an annoying symptom.

The oil-producing glands of the scalp are over-active in the dandruff disease. This increased activity causes excessive oiliness of the hair and, in turn, it results in the development of more and more scales.

Wrong eating, especially of excessive amounts of fats, like butter, cream and pork, is another aggravating factor.

We hear a lot about germs. There are serious doubts about any germ being the cause of this condition. To say the least, the germ origin of the trouble has not been proven.

There is no reason why a male should have any particular trouble in removing the disagreeable scales. It is merely a matter of cleanliness. But it is different with a woman. It is a real task to wash and dry a great mass of long hair. A man can easily and quickly cleanse the hair and scalp. While he will not remove the cause of dandruff, he will have his scalp so clean that no evidence of the trouble will be noticed for several days after a good shampoo.

In washing the hair use a good soap. There are so-called "hard-water soaps," made to form a good lather with hard water. Wet the hair, work up a good lather, rub it into the scalp with the ends of the fingers, and then rinse it out. Having done this well, repeat the process. The second washing will cut the grease and take away the scales.

The secret of the successful shampoo lies in the thoroughness of the rinsing. There should be an abundance of water used, gallons of it. Unless the soap is entirely removed, it in turn, will add scales to a dandruff-covered scalp.

A man who has oily, dandruff-filled hair should clean his head this way twice a week. I do not believe good soap and clean water will do the least bit of harm and I know that the scalp can be made sweet and clean by this procedure.

Whether a woman is to be relieved of dandruff depends on her willingness to give the hair frequent shampoos. The hair cannot be sweet if more than ten days elapse between washings.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue of July 12, 1908)

School boards throughout the county will be glad to hear that there will be more teachers available this autumn than for years. A class of 32 took the examination Saturday and last month there were 84 in the class, which was unusually large.

More than 100 Salem and Leontina Rebeckas gathered on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Rachel B. Len, Ellsworth avenue and seventh street, Friday afternoon for a picnic.

About August 1, a new industry will begin operation in Salem, at which time the Ohio Novelty company, organized by Richard Cole, will begin the manufacture of canvas gloves.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saxson, of Ellsworth avenue announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Miss Emily, to George Slack, of Missoula, Montana. Miss Saxson will leave early next week for Missoula, where the ceremony will be solemnized. For a number of years Miss Saxson was a clerk in the Converse Company store, later she clerked in a store in Columbiana.

The Glidden tour, which last year reached Pittsburgh at 1 p. m. Friday with 55 machines in line. The engagement of Miss Rebecca Hutton, this city, to Arthur Perry Jr., of Boston, is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Finley Hutton, Ellsworth road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stratton, East Seventh st., left Saturday afternoon for Columbus, where they will be guests of Mrs. Stratton's brother, Lyman Bundy, and attend the state and national prohibition conventions.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Spear, of Pasadena, Calif., are spending several days with Mrs. Almada C. McCarty, East High st.

The 18th annual meeting of the National Brotherhood of Operative Pottery is in progress here. Chalmers, where the ceremony will be solemnized. For a number of years Miss Saxson was a clerk in the Converse Company store, later she clerked in a store in Columbiana.

Miller, of Salem, is one of the representatives from northern Columbiana county.

A number from this vicinity attended the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bohner at Winona Wednesday.

Miss Maribella Hutton who has been at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Sylvia Reed of Alliance the past two months has returned home. Mrs. Reed has been seriously ill but is now improving slowly.

G. L. Knoll was to East Liverpool on business Friday.

The Ladies Aid society of the Presbyterian church met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Emmons Friday afternoon.

Dorothy Brooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh W. Brooke of Vancourt, Pa., is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Thomas and daughter, Kathleen and Harry Davidson of Alliance and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas and children Richard and Betty of Belmont, on the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thomas Sunday evening. Samuel Mangus of Salem, visiting at the home of John Mathe.

Mrs. Hattie Borton is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph P. May of Massillon this week.

A number of relatives from this vicinity attended the annual union of the Hassler family at home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Hassler of Hanoverton, Sunday.

Miss Jessie Newcomer, daughter of Mrs. Jesse and Ella Newcomer, Alliance, will leave Tuesday for an extensive trip to Europe. Dr. Mrs. J. E. Wagner of Paris will accompany her.

John N. Davidson and son, Harry Davidson and two daughters, Blanche Clarke and Davidson will leave this week, New York to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Lee.

Motherhood an Aid to a Career, Say Stars of Stage and Screen

Beautiful Mae Murray, film actress, in private life the Princess M'Dvani, kept her son's birth a secret for sixteen months for fear knowledge of his existence might injure her professional career. But her sister stars of the stage and screen do not agree with her, declaring it their belief that motherhood not only does not impair their box office value, but is an inspiration to a career.

RASKOB

New York and I carry it at the same time.

"I have come to the conclusion that it was because business does not trust a Democratic national administration; because the Republicans for years have spread the canard of 'hard times' and business lack of faith in a national Democratic administration.

"Well, gentlemen, this year we will show business that it can have confidence in the Democratic party. John J. Raskob, of General Motors, and my friend, will be national chairman."

That ended that. The party broke up, and ten hours later the national committee ratified the governor's choice. The new Smith dynasty was in the saddle.

Not Nullificationists
The mere fact that Raskob, heretofore not affiliated actively with any party though listed a Republican, is at the head of the Democratic organization is itself enough assurance to the great business interests of the country that they can confidently support Gov. Smith, according to the arguments of Smith's friends today. And the new chairman was quick to follow up this line when in his speech of acceptance.

"He (Gov. Smith) fearlessly condemns idea that those who advocate constitutional amendments by law, methods to meet changing social conditions are nullificationists," said Raskob.

"If," he went on amid dead silence, "as a result of careful study, Gov. Smith can evolve a plan for regulation and control of the liquor question in a way that will absolutely prevent the return of the saloon, which will eliminate bootlegging with its accompanying evils of graft, corruption and murder, and restore temperance to our country, then all fair-minded men must admit his right, if not his duty, as president to promulgate such plan, and to advocate such changes in our laws and constitution as may be necessary for its adoption. This again is leadership—not pussyfooting."

Farm Relief Plan Coming

Thus the lines appeared drawn today—the Democrats are going to the mat on the ticklish issue of prohibition, and at the same time under this new regime in the party they are going to attack the Republicans in what has always been their strongest sector, the appeal to the great business interests of the country on the issue of stability and prosperity.

As for agriculture, Gov. Smith will deal extensively with that in his speech of acceptance some four weeks hence. The Democratic platform went considerably further than the Republican in meeting the demands of the agrarian spokesman at the two conventions, and Gov. Smith has asserted he "stands squarely on the platform."

To Have Southern Office

New York, July 12—Having placed his close friend, John J. Raskob, head of General Motors, at the helm of the Democratic party, Gov. Al Smith today turned his thoughts toward mapping out his campaign plans, fixing the date for his notification and brief vacation.

One of the first major problems to be solved by governor and his board of strategy will be the establishment of regional headquarters. Indications are that within a week Chairman Raskob will announce the establishment of Smith headquarters at Chicago and Denver and at some strategic point south of the Mason-Dixon line. All campaign plans, however, will be worked out at Gov. Smith's headquarters in the Biltmore hotel, this city, and orders will be sent to the various regional bureaus as to how all matters are to be handled.

Senator Joe Robinson, vice presidential candidate, is said to have convinced the governor that there should be an aggressive headquarters in the south to combat the movement already launched by some of the dry Democrats to swing the south, or at least part of it, away from the Democratic ticket.

Gov. Smith already has decided that his notification will be held at

rid ending June 1, is shown in the reports just tabulated.

Two specific campaigns are mentioned—the North Dakota referendum on prohibition and the so-called "Dupont questionnaire mailing campaign" conducted by a Delaware organization.

The Association Against Prohibition Amendment, the chief "wet" organization, reported receipts of $118,954.28 during the period, including loans of $32,500. Expenditures were shown to be $125,861.93.

Prominent Contributors

The largest contributions listed came from William Phelps Eno, Washington, D. C., $1,000; Eldridge R. Johnson, Camden, N. J., $5,000; Raymond Pittman, Bryn Athyn, Pa., $1,666.67; B. Dawson Glemann, Philadelphia, $1,000; William M. Etkinson, Philadelphia, $5,000. There was an anonymous contribution of $5,000.

Other "wet" bodies reporting included: Northern California division of the association, San Francisco, showing receipts of $13,422 and expenditures of $11,989; Delaware division, receipts $8,507; expenditures, $8,144; Missouri association, receipts $2,535, expenditures $2,777. Small expenditures were reported by other local organizations.

A total of $4,000 was advanced by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment to the Better Citizenship Association of North Dakota prior to June 1 for use in the referendum campaign. An expenditure of $6,900 for the questionnaire campaign of the Delaware organization was supplied by P. S. Dupont, capitalist.

SOCIETY

Star Club
An enjoyable meeting of the Star club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Lester Burton, Goshen Center rd. Mrs. Herbert Lora was associate hostess.

A covered dish dinner was a feature. It was served on the lawn and the table was made attractive with bouquets of pink and red rambler roses and sweet peas. Plans were arranged for 40 guests.

Piano selections entertained and fancywork was a diversion while the guests visited.

Included in the guest list were: Mrs. John Jolly and Mrs. Sylvester Armstrong, of Beloit, former members of the club; Mrs. Albert Kidd and daughter, Mary; Danascus; Mrs. Carlisle Diehl, Salem; and Mrs. Harry Haberland and children, Goshen rd.

A meeting on Aug. 8, will be at the home of Mrs. H. A. Shinn, Benton rd.

Post-Nuptial Shower

Mrs. John Vincent received a number of beautiful gifts for her new home when the Harriet Watt guild of the Church of Our Saviour complimented her with a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening at a meeting at the parish hall.

Mrs. Vincent, before her recent marriage, was Miss Dorothy Jones. Miss Irene Taylor was hostess at this meeting and served a two-course lunch at a table beautifully decorated with flowers. Miss Taylor was assisted in serving by Mrs. E. Y. Hegan, Mrs. Harry Robinson and Mrs. Ralph Coy.

Double Four Club

First and second honors in the "500" games were shared by Mrs. Cleve Bird and Mrs. Robert Litty at an assembly of the Double Four club members Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Walton, East High st. A lunch was served after the games.

Mrs. Litty and Mrs. Joseph Lyons were welcomed as visitors. Meeting in two weeks the members will be guests of Mrs. Scott Warner, Roosevelt ave.

Luncheon Bridge

Mrs. Joseph Reese, Main st., entertained a group of friends at a luncheon-bridge Wednesday at McKinley Inn, McKinley ave. A decorative motif of yellow and green made the table attractive.

Four tables were engaged in the bridge games and trophies offered were presented Mrs. P. H. Felger, of Columbiana, and Mrs. Theodore Jewell, Salem. Several of the guests were from Columbiana.

Marriage License

A marriage license has been issued to Harry T. Horton of West Brownsville, Pa., a contractor and Miss Florence H. McLane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Collin McLane of East Liverpool. They are to be married by Rev. Davison at East Liverpool.

Grange Social

A series of games provided entertainment at a social held by the young people of Goshen Grange Wednesday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem. About 80 were in attendance, some of them from neighboring granges. A lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Betts, this city, and Mrs. Betts' sister, Mrs. Norman Elder, of Pittsburgh, have returned from a few days visit at Cambridge Springs, Pa.

Literary Club
Literary club associates and a few friends were guests at a beautifully appointed luncheon given Wednesday by Mrs. F. J. Emeny at her home, Highland ave. The table was decorated in white larkspur and pink roses.

The afternoon was enjoyed informally. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. B. S. Ambler and Mrs. W. H. Koll, of Washington; Mrs. J. R. Thomas, Mantua; Miss Josephine Taber, Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. C. L. Smith, of Atwater.

Picnic a Success

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the English Lutheran church was an enjoyable event of Wednesday afternoon at Centennial park with about 70 interested in the festivities of the occasion.

A program of games and contests furnished amusement. A picnic supper was served at 6:30 o'clock. In the evening there was a baseball game, between the men and boys, which resulted in a tie.

Club Associates Gather

A group of women who are club associates met Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Helen Smith, Garfield ave., and devoted the time, to playing bridge.

Three tables were in play in the games and prizes were awarded Mrs. Donald Carey, Mrs. Dwight McNab and Mrs. J. W. Hendricks.

In one week the members will meet with Mrs. Carey at the Salem Country Club.

Unity Bible Class

Members of the Unity Bible class of the M. E. church will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the church and go in a body to Alliance to view the body of Mrs. John Wagner, of Atwater, formerly of Salem, at the home of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wagner. Transportation will be provided for those not having a way to go. Mrs. Wagner was a member of this class.

Sorority Picnic

Members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority of Mt. Union college and their invited guests enjoyed a picnic Wednesday afternoon at the Salem Country club.

Those from Salem who attended were Miss Eleanor Tolerton, Miss Mary Jane Strawn, Miss Florence Jane Tolerton and Miss Helen Smith.

Mrs. W. B. Henion of Chicago is expected to arrive in Salem Sunday and will visit for about two weeks at the home of Mrs. Walter F. Deming, Lincoln ave.

Mrs. Ray Vaughn and daughter, Maxine and son, Henry, and Mrs. Stanley Vaughn and daughter, Janet, of Columbiana, are spending Thursday in Salem.

Mrs. J. Kirkwood and daughter, Miss Leah Belle Kirkwood of Ellsworth, spent Wednesday afternoon in Youngstown.

Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Kittanning, Pa., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Mary McGowan, Broadway, this week.

Mrs. Ernest Schmid and daughters, Clara and Mary, spent Wednesday afternoon in Youngstown.

Charles Ruppel of Cleveland is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Potts, Jennings ave.

Kings Heralds
The Kings Heralds of the Methodist church will meet at 2:30 p. m. Friday at Centennial park. All members are requested to be present.

joy and calling upon heaven to shower its blessings upon the brave seaman.

Mariano's legs are frozen. He is in a serious condition as it is feared that gangrene may set in.

Died Month Ago

Zappi said that Prof. Malmgren had died a month ago, but that his body had been kept in hope that they would be rescued and it could be given a Christian burial. It was frozen stiff when taken aboard the Krassin.

The members of the Malmgren party suffered the utmost agonies of body and mind. Death from starvation and exposure faced them continuously as they drifted in the desolate Arctic sea, the only sound being the grinding of the ice fields and the crash of colliding bergs.

They were so weak and their movements were so hampered that they had difficulty in getting enough exercise to keep from freezing to death. When they left the Noble party on May 25 to seek the coast of Northeast Land of Foyne Island the men carried what they thought was enough concentrated food—chiefly pemmican—for 45 days. They had expected to reach land in a few days—a week at the utmost.

Found Themselves Helpless

In attempting to cross to the coast line they began traversing a floe that was detached by the current and wind and carried into the open water. They found themselves helpless. They had no wireless equipment and their only hope was in being sighted by an aviator or a stray whaler.

Although Malmgren was a strong man physically and used to the rigors of the far north, he was the first to weaken. After his death the other two were able to increase their rations somewhat. The only water they had was from melted snow and surface ice, which was not salty.

Day after day they scanned the horizon for a searching plane, only to be disappointed. Although in the last stages of weakness they struggled to their feet with two small flares in their hands when the Russian airman at last, after what seemed an eternity, appeared in view in the gray Arctic sky.

Aviator Not Worried

Moscow, July 12.—Learning today by radio that Alberto Mariano and Filippo Zappi had been rescued from their icy refuge and were safe aboard the ice breaker Krassin, the Russian aviator Chuchnovsky, who was forced to land on the coast of Northeast Land after sighting the Malmgren party yesterday, sent a wireless message to the Krassin thence stating that there was no need to worry about his companions and himself.

"We have just shot a big polar bear," said Chuchnovsky, "and we have sufficient provisions and fresh meat to last for three weeks."

Chuchnovsky declared that the group of Italian survivors headed by Viglieri are "probably starving," and that every day that their rescue is further delayed means that their suffering is increasing.

In the meantime, the Krassin is pushing forward through the ice floes toward the Viglieri group, advising the Soviet relief headquarters in a message tonight, that the distance now separating the ship

Markets
INDUSTRIALS IRREGULAR
New York, July 12.—Industrial stocks were irregular at the opening today, with narrow price ranges in the speculative favorites. Steel sold up 1/4 at 135 1/4; General Motors down 1/4 at 190. Wright Aero sustained a loss of 4 1/2 points at 140 1/2; American Can was down 1/4 at 8 1/4; American Refining up 1/4 at 134 1/2; Nash Motors down a point at 81 1/2; Huggins down 1/2 at 91 1/2. Wednesday's wide break in industrial stock ledgers carried the market in the early trading today. General Motors was again the object of bearish attacks, yielding 3 points in the first half hour. A stock of 11,200 shares sold at 186 1/2, over 2 points from the decline of the day. U. S. Steel and Radio displayed stronger resistance to selling pressure.
When the renewal rate for call money was announced at 7 per cent, the market passed around that the New York Reserve bank did not raise the rediscount rate 5 per cent after the close of the market today.
Attempts to link the severe depression of General Motors with the election of John J. Raskob as chairman of the Democratic national committee were not very successful.
United States steel held firmly around 134 1/2, but losses of a point were sustained in American Can, Greene Cananea, International Nickel, Nash Motors, International Combustion, Hudson Motor, Montgomery Ward and other favorites.
The rails and oils displayed a firm edge.
Large blocks of high-priced specialty stocks were forced on the market in the second hour. Missouri Pacific declined more than 2 points and Wash. 2 1/2. Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and Case Threshing Machine sold at prices 3 to 4 points below the previous close. General Motors was pounded down to below 185.

MINOR PARTIES CANNOT AGREE
Prohibits Won't Concur In Nomination of Norris By Farmer-Laborites
Chicago, July 12.—Bitter charges were hurled on the floor of the prohibition convention here this afternoon that D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the prohibition party, was attempting to "sell out" the party to the Republican party. The charges came during a heated battle over platform and candidates.
Rev. John L. Dickson of Wheaton, Ill., was the man who accused Colvin and others of trying to further a plan of have the convention endorse Hoover and Curtis as the candidates of the party. The Rev. Dickson in the midst of his speech was gavelled to order by Chairman B. P. E. Prugh. Many delegates rushed to the defense of Colvin who himself made a heated denial of any ulterior motives in his actions.
Chicago, July 12.—The prohibition party and the farmer-labor movement were well along divergent roads today following the action of the Farmer-Laborites last night in nominating Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska as their candidate for president of the United States.
Will Verren of Multie, Ga., was nominated for vice president on the Farmer-Labor ticket.
Shortly after the ticket was announced, prohibition party leaders gave out statements to the effect that they would not concur in the nominations.
The prohibition party, in other words, it was indicated, will nominate its own candidates, and all plans for a consolidation of the two groups, Prohibition and Farmer-Labor, are "off."
It was regarded as likely that the prohibition party convention would end with either an actual or informal indorsement of Hoover.
Senator Norris was nominated by the Farmer-Labor convention despite an "absolute" refusal to be a candidate. Only 30 delegates were present to do the balloting; Senator Norris received 16 votes on the third ballot.
The Farmer-Laborites adopted a platform calling for "enforcement of all laws," the abolition of injunctions in labor disputes, farm relief, the scrapping of all implements of war, withdrawal of the marines from Nicaragua and public ownership of Boulder dam and Muscle Shoals.

Two Girls Missing; May Have Eloped
New Lexington, O., July 12.—Two 15-year-old orphan girls are missing from Perry county, and county authorities are searching for two married men who are said to have eloped to Cincinnati with them in an automobile. One of the men is said to be from Toledo, the other from Columbus.
The girls are Ellen Woods, near Bear Run, and Nina Adams, a ward of the Perry county orphan home. The girls disappeared Sunday night, after the latter is reported to have confided to a chum that she was to be married.

La Follette To Run On Minority Planks
Waterloo, Wis., July 12.—"I am a candidate for re-election to the senate on the Progressive platform which embodies the principles presented at Kansas City," Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., in the opening speech here today, made this statement in which he said he was a candidate not on the platform adopted at Kansas City but on the one presented by the Progressives as a minority.
La Follette declared nothing could be accomplished by a third party movement at this time.

U. S. To Investigate Firing On Vessels
Toledo, July 12.—Plans for the announced investigation of the firing on pleasure crafts by Federal Coastguard boats playing the waters of Lake Erie were being made today following the statement by Acting Commandant B. M. Thisswell, of this district, that Lieutenant Commander C. B. Lofberg, district coastguard commander of Washington, will institute the probe at an early date.

Obituary
CHARLES H. BORTON
Charles Harry Borton, 57, of Red Oak, Ia., whose home was formerly near Beloit, died of heart trouble and complication at 11:10 p. m. last Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. O. J. Haldeman, with whom he had made his home since Feb. 13, 1925.
Mr. Borton, a son of Caleb W. and Hannah Roller Borton, was born June 9, 1871, near Randolph. At the age of 20 he went to Texas, where he was engaged in farming for several years. He returned to Ohio and took up railroading for a number of years, then later engaged in the American Mining and Smelting Co., as engineer for some time. He also worked in New Mexico and Arizona. He went to Red Oak from Tucson, Ariz., last February.
He was united in marriage to Miss Mary Naylor of Beloit, on Oct. 12, 1900, in Beloit. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for 28 years.
Surviving are six children, Mrs. John A. Doerf and Clifford Doerf of Alliance; Mrs. Seibert Russ of Sebring, and Harry, Edna and Donald Borton, near Beloit; one sister, Mrs. Haldeman, at whose home he died; two grandchildren, Charles Ellis Doerf and Virgil Borton.
A short funeral service was held at the Haldeman home at Red Oak at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday.
The body arrived here last evening accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Haldeman, and taken to the Arbaugh funeral home, McKinley ave., where friends can view the body.
The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Methodist church, Damascus, in charge of Rev. Mr. Cope; interment in the Damascus cemetery.

"Can't Get 'em Up," Wartime Plaintiff, Greets America's Student-Soldiers

Training camps over all the country are now open and receiving boys who learn some soldiering during their vacations. Upper left is Lieut. Richard Moore of Hartford, Conn., at Plattsburg, New York, as he tries on some of the larger sizes of "canal boats" over his own delicate sizes. Upper right are recruits coming

GALLIC WHISKER DISPUTE RAGING IN FRANCE NOW

Learned Arguments heard In Academy Concerning Painters' Touches

Paris, July 12.—Did Verdingetrix, the original Gaul, wear the original Gallic moustache?

Allegations tending to show that painters and sculptors of the whole Christian era put false whiskers on Verdingetrix have provoked learned arguments in the French academy.

Until the Academicians reach an unofficial decision on the question Frenchmen will have to ask themselves: "What kind of moustaches are we growing anyway?" And there are a lot of moustaches in France.

The academy ran athwart Verdingetrix in the French dictionary which it is revising for the first time since 1878. A woodcut of the original Gaul adorned with a long drooping moustache illustrated the definition of moustache. "This is the Gallic moustache," it was explained. "The picture is wrong, Verdingetrix was, as clean shaven as a North American Indian," objected members of the academy. For proof they pointed to the writings of M. Franck Ponck-Brentano, Academician and historian, who set down: "Ancient money bearing the effigy of Verdingetrix shows him without a moustache."

Others retorted that the late Anatole France described a Verdingetrix who would have scorned barbers and never had a hair tonic. Less erudite opinion outside the Academy, failed to understand how an early Gaul could grow a moustache and still remain so clean-shaven but such puzzling will have no weight in the academy's decision.

Strict consequences will follow if the Academy gives Verdingetrix a scholarly shave. There will be no such thing as a Gallic, or national, moustache. Men who sport a so-called Verdingetrix droop may dolefully call upon their barbers to cut off something that simply is not French.

Thousands of people who daily visit museums and gaze at paintings of Verdingetrix will do so realizing he is hiding behind the moustache of another, possibly less original Gaul.

And if the French love for historical truth is carried out to the letter, stone chisellers will have to mount hundreds of monuments to Verdingetrix and smooth off his upper lip.

"Ladies will please keep their hats on during the performance!" Displayed at a local movie, this sign just reverses the old order of things. The styles are responsible. Before, milady were an obstructive picture hat with wide brims. She did not bob her hair. Today, she wears a snugly fitting cloche hat, which, if removed, may release a blind blown bob, even more obstructive than the hats of old.

"Stop kissing in public?"—Why that would mar the scenery of Paris?

Thus spoke M. Jean Chiappe, prefect of police. He could do a lot to stop public kissing but he refuses to try to, so the city is now breathing easy.

But Parisians had a narrow escape. M. Rieter-Borenger, municipal councillor, arose before the council and asked for an immediate ban on kissing, particularly on farewell kisses in railroad stations. "There are too many love scenes on the train platforms," he protested. "Mais oui," replied M. Chiappe. "That kind of kissing is as old as the hills. When I was young I enjoyed that more than once. Weren't you ever young, Monsieur le Councillor? Didn't you ever have a little sweetheart?"

"I think this love pecking is really delicious and charming. It is part of Paris. Suppress it and you spoil the landscape."

"Please, Monsieur, let our youths do their kissing at the station. Better that they do it there than elsewhere."

Munich, Germany.—The Luftwansa mail and freight service was opened Monday between Munich and Milan by way of the Alps. It will be followed by an air passenger service shortly. The schedule calls for a four-hour flight, the railroad takes 14 hours.

"I am so happy that the last pimple is gone—"

WITHOUT this handicap, there returns the very natural confidence, joy and cherished pride of possessing a clear skin.

Men and women both justly covet admiration, and you can expect such satisfaction only if you are happy in a clear, unblemished skin.

The sure way to reach this state is through the blood.

Red blood cells are Nature's elements for building and sustaining the body.

Without plenty of rich, red blood, there can be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or beautiful, healthy women.

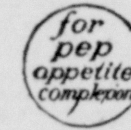

You know a clear skin comes from within. Correct the cause—through the blood—and pimples, boils, eczema and that sallow complexion will disappear.

Thousands have regained their strength and charm by taking a few bottles of S.S.S.—Nature's own tonic for restoring the appetite—building strength—and clearing the body of so-called skin troubles.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

4 MEN AND GIRL HELD IN MURDER

Night Club Hostess Said To Be Daughter Of A Wealthy Akronite

New York, July 12.—Four men and a girl, were under arrest today in connection with the murder Monday night of Goltito Marrero, 22, and Florentino San Just, 19, Porto Rican longshoremen, who were shot by men in a moving automobile in Brooklyn.

Harry Savettierre, 28, John Tuone, 27, and Miss Annette Allison, 20, all of Brooklyn, were arrested last night. The two men were charged with homicide. They denied any knowledge of the double shooting.

Police said the Allison girl is a friend of Savettierre's, and comes from a wealthy family at Akron, O., where her father is said to be in the wholesale fruit business. She has supported herself since coming to the city, according to police, by acting as a night club hostess in New York and Coney Island. She is being held as a material witness.

Neil Gerrato, 22, and Phillip Cluffre, alias "Pug," 21, both of Brooklyn, are also charged with homicide in connection with the double shooting.

Police said Savettierre admitted ownership of a runabout answering the description of the murder car. He has been identified by three eyewitnesses as having been in the murder car.

Police at first believed the Porto Ricans were shot by mistake in a Brooklyn gangster feud which followed the recent assassination of Frankie Yale, king of Brooklyn's underworld.

LEETONIA

The Kiwanis club held its monthly business meeting on Tuesday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran chapel where the dinner was served by the Priscilla club.

There were eight visitors from the Lieben club, one from the Salem club and Elsworth Harrold of Paso R-bles, Calif. George Ripper, delegate from the Leetonia club to the international convention held in Seattle, Wash., gave a most interesting report of the convention.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lodge have returned from a motor trip to Sandusky where they visited their daughter, Mrs. W. H. Murbaugh and went to Cleveland where they were guests of their daughters, Miss Charlotte Lodge and Mrs. Hazel Stubbs. They were accompanied home by the Misses Dorothy and Suzanne Murbaugh and brother John, who will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lodge for several weeks.

Mrs. Alice Aiken, Mrs. S. A. Keller and three sons, Solie, William and John and Mrs. George Ferguson, all of Warren, motored here on Tuesday. Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Keller and family visited in the home of Mrs. Osee Shepherd. Mrs. Ferguson spent the day in the home of Mrs. Lydia Weaver and Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Brillhart. Miss Margaret Brillhart, who had spent the week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, returned to her home with them.

Mrs. Raymond Bundy of Columbiana and her nephew, George

Johnson of Pittsburgh, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bundy. They also called on other friends. Mrs. Bundy was a former Leetonia resident, being a bride of recent date. The little son of Mrs. Katherine Johnson formerly made his home on Somer st. with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Cunningham, Sr., prior to their going to Pittsburgh to make their home.

Word was received here by friends that Mrs. Helen McKelvey, who is visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Gensamer in Butler, Pa., has been quite ill since she left here and is suffering from toxic poisoning caused by diseased tonsils.

The Misses Eleanor and Pauline Marshall are in Pittsburgh visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grace.

Mrs. Margaret Ready was a Youngstown visitor on Tuesday.

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Their Plight Now Desperate

RADIO BOARD TO PUSH CLEARINGS

Promise Ether Will Be In Better Shape By Fall In Nation

Washington, July 12.—The Federal Radio Commission has decided to permit Station WEVD, New York the Socialist-controlled memorial to the late Eugene V. Debs, to operate indefinitely on its present wave length and power.

Formal announcement of the decision will be withheld until protests of 100 other stations ordered off the air Aug. 1, have been heard, but the station managers at New York have been informed they need not suspend.

Washington, July 12.—The federal radio commission today promised the nation's millions of radio fans that the ether will be cleared and in order by September 1.

With that goal their objective, the commissioners today inaugurated double-quick procedure to clean up and docket of 197 stations protesting against the blanket order of July 1 revoking the licenses of 164 smaller stations effective August 1.

The hearings probably will be concluded this week and the commission will announce its final action in each case between July 20 and August 1. The following month will be devoted to reallocation of wave lengths in the weeded field.

It is the hope of the commission that after new assignments of wave lengths and power are made in the five radio zones, as required under amendments made in the last congress, no more general shifting will be necessary to maintain favorable broadcasting conditions in all sections of the country.

See Better Reception
"Better reception than ever before may be expected this fall and winter as a result of the reallocations," Commissioner Caldwell declared today.

In three days hearings this week, the commission has listened to the appeal of more than 50 stations against the "clear the air" order. Dividing itself into two courts for the remainder of the week, the dictators of the ether planned to clear their docket by Saturday.

Property rights of the broadcasters, most of which are corporations, against the public interest of the millions of ear-phone gentry is the great issue in the fight now being waged by the smaller stations.

Virtually every station appealing has cited the financial loss involved in compliance with the commission's order. Other operators have challenged the authority of the commission on the ground that their stations serve only within one station and do not come, therefore, under the federal authority.

DRY AGENTS GET ATLANTA TERMS

Mullins and Seltzer To Spend 21 Months For Hi-jacking Plan

Columbus, July 12.—Climaxing the liquor scandal in the state prohibition department, Frank Mullins and Carl Seltzer, two state prohibition agents convicted of violation of the national prohibition law in connection with a gigantic hi-jacking scheme, were today sentenced to 21 months each in the Atlanta federal penitentiary. Fines of $500 each were also imposed upon by Federal Judge Benson W. Hough.

The maximum sentence that could have been imposed on the convicted men was a fine of $12,000 and five years in the federal prison. Sentencing of Mike De Angelo, who pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with complicity in connection with the charges upon which Seltzer and Mullins were placed on trial, was deferred until Sept. 17 when the court allowed him until that time to take care of a carload of fruit and straighten out his affairs.

It was alleged at the trial that De Angelo had bribed Mullins and Seltzer to hi-jack a truckload of beer and liquor and then turn it over to him.

PALMOLIVE AND COLGATE UNITE

Chicago, July 12.—Consolidation of the Palmolive-Peet company and Colgate company, two of the largest soap and perfume concerns in the country, was announced here today by officials of the Palmolive company.

Stockholders' meetings will be called soon to vote upon the plan, and if they assent the merger will be made effective as of July 1.

Girl Identifies Two Police In Scandal

Cleveland, July 12.—Charges were expected to be preferred against two west side policemen here today following their positive identification by a 19-year-old girl patient at Lakeside hospital as participants in a west side scandal in which 10 city patrolmen were alleged to have been involved.

When taken to the hospital Monday, the girl declared that 10 officers were involved. At a secret session yesterday, ordered by Police Chief Jacob Graub, the girl repudiated a former statement, however, and incriminated only two policemen. It was said.

FOUR RECORDS SET BY PLANE

Philadelphia, July 12.—Four world records for seaplanes were established at the Philadelphia navy yards today by the XPN-12, piloted by Lieut. A. W. Gerton and Chief Boatswain E. C. Rieber.

The first record was the endurance record for seaplanes carrying a 2,000 kilogram load at 3:23 a. m. Twenty minutes later a new range record was set.

Next came a speed record for seaplanes carrying such a load which was double the ordinary load of planes of this type.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the fourth record was established when the plane broke the range record for planes carrying 1,100 kilograms. The plane landed about 8:45 a. m. after flying more than 1,300 miles.

LOANS up to $500

How much finer it is to get out in the woods and sing and play, and be natural, than to fight inclination and waste good energy trying to be proper. And still there are those members of the "just so" society who would rather go hungry than eat their pie with a spoon.

Of course it may seem a little improper to have to ask to borrow money when you have never had that experience before. But after you have made arrangements for a loan at The City Loan you will realize that it's only a natural business affair that might easily be a benefit to the most correct individual as well as to just plain and wholesome kind of folks.

POTTERS' VOTES DECIDE PLANS

Brotherhood To Ballot On Meeting Place And An Organizer

East Liverpool, July 12.—In a post convention session, a sequel to the regular 33rd annual convention of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters which adjourned here last night, the executive board of the brotherhood today ordered ballots prepared for a vote of the 7,500 skilled ceramic workers on the choice of the 1929 meeting place, employment of a general organizer at an annual salary of $2,500 and adoption of a proposed group insurance plan providing for the payment of $1,000 death benefits.

At the regular convention sessions it was voted to meet in Atlantic City, New Jersey, or Washington, D. C., leaving the trade to select either of the two cities as the meeting place for the next convention.

President James M. Duffy, of the brotherhood and other national representatives to the joint wage conference with the labor committee of the United States Potters' association.

At this conference, which will be held next month, probably in Atlantic City, it is expected that pay increases will be asked.

TUNNEY ASSERTS HE WILL BE SILENT BY 5TH

He Believes PUNCHES
To Temple Will Carry
Him To Victory

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Salem, N. J., July 12.—Tom Tunney won't answer the bell for any more.

Tunney, I should have finished my career long ago. I am not a fighter, and I am only a fighter because of the money. I am not a fighter, and I am only a fighter
because of the money. I am not a fighter, and I am only a fighter
because of the money.

He is supposed to have bound-up his career with a glad cry, as he went away since this is an accidental part of the act, there is no doubt as to where it is in the slightest. He then is supposed to have retired to a neutral corner and delivered himself of the above statement.

As I adjure you to believe me at your own risk, merely because it is along for what it may be worth with the remark that it is sponsored by that found of all knowledge and information, William Tunney, the champion's manager at times as he, William, is not at all.

The writer can venture on this subject in two pertinent observations. First, that Brother Tunney in this moment looks the exact part of a fighter who might feel that he is going to knock somebody someone at some time none too distant. Second, that our champion has backed the writer into the the press or somewhere and convinced him alone the great secret of the punch and it isn't your turn to get it.

Las Temple PUNCHES
I gathered, those devoted to the fight about fighting in olden times for the matter of the thing did-not know that the jaw was the vulnerable—that's Brother Tunney's and centered their attacks upon the temple.
This, I gathered, proved a bit serious on the unloved hands and these primitive souls used this punch only when it was due to be something.

Just when the victim was ready for the coup de grace he is mine—they popped upon the balustrade with punches they didn't have in the name and stood back to let him fall. That, it seems, is Brother Tunney all over.

The mugs keep shooting at him, said he, forgetting himself. "I'm content with the best target offered me and of this sort, constantly and heavily applied, that were Tom Tunney down and made him collapse from a final fusillade to the fact, it was punches like these that kept Dempsey off balance and eventually all but exhausted him in the fight.

When they bury their chins down and think they are winning with something by punching with the of the head. This spot may be as vulnerable as the jaw but will find it is susceptible high, particularly after 10 or 12 punches of that kind of punishment."

Ruth Socks 33rd Homer, And Bottomley, 20th; Tigers Beat Yanks

New York, July 12.—Andy Reese of the Giants got five hits in as many times at bat; Babe Ruth got his 33rd home run and Jim Bottomley collected in 20th yesterday.
Simmons batted in six runs as the Athletics swamped the White Sox, 10 to 3. Red Faber tamed the A's in the nightcap, 5 to 1, and the Mackmen are still eleven games behind the Yankees.

Detroit beat the Yanks, 4 to 2, for the first time this season when Pipgras blew up, and it took Ruth's homer to beat them in the nightcap, 6 to 5.

Cleveland, Chicago, Washington, Boston and even Detroit are waging a pretty battle for fourth place, with the first three teams changing places almost daily. Cleveland regained their first division berth yesterday by trimming Washington, 2 to 1. The Red Sox beat St. Louis, 4 to 3.

The National League scramble tightened up a bit when the Giants came from behind and nosed out the Cardinals, 6 to 4, and Brooklyn plastered a 4 to 3 defeat on Cincinnati.

Bottomley got his home with two on in the first inning when the Cards kayode Larry Benton, New York ace, but Bill Walker, rookie southpaw from Denver, held them to a solitary hit in the remaining eight innings.

Bill Doak's elusive spitballs and three hits by Beauty Bancroft stopped the Reds.

Pittsburgh made it five straight wins by taking a six-inning affair from the Phillies, 3 to 1. Hartnett's homer featured Chicago's 4 to 2 win over Boston.

"Time Crier" Passes From London Scene

London, July 12.—With the death of Frederick Adams, senior beadle of Ely-Place, Charterhouse st., Hel-borne, London, has lost one of its oldest "time-criers."
Until the war period, Beadle Adams not only cried the hours in Ely-Place from 10 p. m. to 5 a. m., but he also added a statement as to the weather at the moment. His cry: "One o'clock and a fine night," was familiar to residents for blocks around.
An old artilleryman and a widower, Adams had for 30 years carried out his duty. Ely-Place, now a precinct to itself, used to be part of Cambridgeshire. It dates back to the 13th century. Ely-Place has been occupied by many notables in history. But it had many vicissitudes, and ultimately its grounds became Hatton Gardens. Great and Little Kirby sts., Charles st., Cross st., Hatton Wall and Ely-Place, its old buildings, with the exception of a 13th century chapel, all disappearing.

New York—Vixenote Alain De Leche, French poet, who came to visit this country nine months ago convinced that the American girl drinks and smokes too much, is firmly entrenched in the opinion as he leaves us. And what is more: "They drink and smoke as much in Oklahoma as in New York, but not nearly so well."

MULLINS BEATS COLLEGIAN "9"

Teams Play Great Ball In Rain Last Night, Error Deciding Battle

Playing to what is believed to be the largest attendance at any city playground baseball league game despite the heavy downpour of rain, the Collegians lost their first game in the circuit to the Mullins, 5-4, Wednesday night at Centennial park.

Grafton pitched fine ball through-out, holding the winners to six hits, but these were bunched in two in-nings, the sixth and eighth. In the eighth Grafton paved the way for the tying and winning runs with an error.

Both teams played great ball in the field despite the rain.

Recovers Seven Golf Balls In Bird Nest

Wildwood, N. J., July 12.—The board of governors of the Wildwood Golf club will vote today on the momentous question of whether a fish-hawk's nest should be removed from a tree on the ninth fairway.

One member of the board, William Hunt, will vote in the affirmative. He smacked a sparkling drive off the ninth tee yesterday but was unable to locate the ball until he noticed a commotion in the hawk's nest.

Upon investigation, Hunt's ball and six others were found in the nest of the greedy bird.

Old Gold hits a homer for Babe Ruth in Blindfold cigarette test

"Yes, I am well over 21... so I could see no reason why I shouldn't make the blindfold test. As I tried the four leading cigarettes I kept this 'box score' on the results:

- No. 1 . . . . . out at first
- No. 2 . . . this one 'fanned'
- No. 3 . . . out on a pop fly
- No. 4 (OLD GOLD) a home run hit!

"OLD GOLD'S mildness and smoothness marked it 'right off the bat' as the best."

Babe Ruth

The idol of the baseball world... 'The King of Swat'

BABE RUTH... making the test in the dressing room at the Yankee Stadium. He was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with black coffee between smokes. Only one question was asked: "Which one do you like best?"

Why do they choose OLD GOLD... even in the dark?

What is this superiority that wins so many famous people? It's simply honey-like smoothness... the new and delightful quality that OLD GOLD has added to cigarettes. And it comes from the heart-leaves of the tobacco plant... the finest tobacco that grows. That's why you can pick OLD GOLD with your eyes closed.

"THE CIRCUS"

Charles Chaplin never disappoints. He is the one known quantity, the unfailing clown, one of the few constant comedy stars in the movies.

In this story of circus life, of which Charlie accidentally becomes a part, his genius for fun-making is again clothed in a trick derby, over-romy shoes, funny little mustache and flexible cane. And audiences, who have come to love Charlie, roared louder than ever at the antics of their screen idol at the Grand last night.

Exclamations of glee from the children every time Charlie did his stuff, whether on the tight-rope, flinging hot dogs from a stand, or making faces at the baby, boomed from the first row to the ceiling. Fearful "ohs," "eohs" and "ahs" were crooned lest Charlie be caught by the strong arm of the law or fall off a slack wire.

But Charlie comes off on top in every situation but one—he doesn't get the girl he loves.

The "girl" is played by fluff-haired Merna Kennedy, blessed with a flock of red hair and blue eyes and a dashing personality.

But in not winning the girl Charlie plays the part of the usual comedy king. He brings together the girl he loves and her sweetheart, and brings to the two happiness.

It is Merna's first picture role. She climbed directly from the comedy stage to the part of Chaplin's leading lady. With her, as her lawyer is another newcomer, Harry Crocker.

Just an example of the real circus settings it took to make "The Circus." 3,000 gallons of lemonade were used; 3,662 bottles of pop; 2,602 bags of peanuts; 1,126 rolls of popcorn; 5,705 frankfurters and an equal number of rolls; 1,517 sticks of chewing gum; 1,282 lollypops; 28,000 yards of canvas; 1,900 tons of sawdust; 7,000 yards of rope; 51 kegs of nails and 42,000 gallons of water.

brought into play some thrilling adventures on the great Sahara, battles between a handful of French soldiers and desert wolves—and just that necessary touch to bring an occasional grin.

While the main work falls upon Gary Cooper, playing the title role, the comedy end has been turned over to a pair of able actors—Noah Berry and Roscoe Karns. During the early scenes of the story, Berry is a hated desert terror, a fearless tribesman, and Karns is his grand vizier, until it is learned that they are former soldiers, deserters from the service. This gives not only a unique, but a perfect bit of comedy to the tale of "Beau Sabreur."

"Beau Sabreur" tells the story of a young French officer Major Henri de Beaulouis, who vows to his uncle that he will live and die for France and forget that such things as women exist. Then he becomes mixed up in a series of desert battles, in which he has his work cut out so that France may triumph. He has been introduced to a beautiful American girl, Mary Vanbrugh, and she, to save her own life, joins his party. Henri is racing toward the Great Oasis to obtain the signature of Sheikh El Hamel on a treaty, and he falls in his mission, the sheikh casting covetous eyes on the girl. But she learns the sheikh's secret, and has the treaty signed. Henri is torn between his love to France and his love for the girl. It is a ticklish position for a man to be in—but he makes good on both.

Gary Cooper plays "Beau Sabreur," the beautiful swordsman, and he does it well. He is handsome and virile and fairly lives the role. Evelyn Brent is the girl. The others in the powerful cast are William Powell, Arnold Kent, Mitchell Lewis, Joan Standing, Frank Reicher, Oscar Smith and Raoul Paoli.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, July 12.—Coming events are by no means slow to cast their shadows before in the world of fashion. Although the chestnut trees have not yet blossomed forth along the avenue des Champs Elysees, Parisian dressmakers are showing that smart women will wear next winter.

Velvet will be the favorite material, it seems, either plain or printed. Drecoll not only uses it for gowns and coats but for trimming as well. There is an ensemble in navy-blue velvet consisting of a long coat with brown fox collar and a perky little frock with full, circular skirt faced with pale pink and double-breasted bodice opening over a pink chemise.

A charming afternoon frock comes of black velvet with tiny gray polka-dots and an evening ensemble has a long circular cape of chartreuse with gray squirrel and a collar of the same fur worn over a frock of white georgette embroidered in crystal and chartreuse-colored beads with applique bands of the velvet.

A frock of black georgette has a kerchief of black panne velvet knotted on one shoulder and a deep, three-cornered piece of the same material forming a sort of tight overskirt reaching to the hem at one side.

THE GUMPS—WHEN IS A JOKE NOT A JOKE?

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Quickly Prepared Meat Dishes

Quickly prepared meat dishes are generally summer favorites when it is too hot for boiled meats and roasts. If carefully selected the small dishes can be made economical as well as attractive. Chops broiled or fried are always liked, but even broiled they are very delicate and the bones that are removed may be used to give body to a light jelly soup. Just now calf's liver has come into its own through medical exploitation.

Creamed Calf's Liver

A pound of calf's liver, enough for four people, par-boiled until tender, then diced. Make a cream sauce of a tablespoonful each of butter and flour cooked together two or three minutes, then add a cupful and a half of rich milk and stir as the sauce thickens, add pepper, salt, a tablespoonful of onion juice and two tablespoonfuls of capers. Put in the liver long enough to heat through; serve in a hot dish garnished with toast sippets, parsley and potato puffs. Or sliced cold broiled potatoes broiled and well buttered and dusted with pepper and salt.

Steak Rolls

Have two pounds of top round steak cut in thin slices. Make a force meat of a minced onion, the chopped meat trimmings, a cupful of fine crumbs, pepper, salt, a half teaspoonful of sugar, a little powdered dried mint, or sage, and a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce. Mix well and break in an egg to bind the mixture. Chop fine one dozen stoned olives and mix through the dressing. Put a tablespoonful on each thin slice and roll and pin with a wooden toothpick. Rub the inside of a casserole dish with a cut bud of garlic, then butter it well and lay in the rolls. Pour over a thin cream sauce and cook in the oven about an hour. Serve in the same dish.

Oven Cutlet

Take two pounds of veal cutlet and cut it into strips two inches wide and three or four inches long. Dip the strips in beaten egg, then roll in very fine crumbs that have been seasoned with salt, pepper, cinnamon and a little sugar. Lay the cutlet strips on a buttered baking dish and pour over them a cupful of grape juice, a tablespoonful of onion juice and the same of lemon juice. Cover and cook 15 minutes then uncover and cook until tender and a delicate brown basting frequently.

Stuffed Chops

Have eight pork or veal chops cut thinner than for frying and remove all the bone. Make a savory stuffing, about a cupful and a half, spread the four chops and top them with the others, sandwich fashion. Lay them on a buttered baking dish, dust with pepper and salt and dot with a little butter. Turn around them a cupful of cider and cook, basting often, until the gravy is rich and thick and the meat a delicate brown. Serve on a hot dish and turn the sauce over all.

Lamb's Hearts

Trim and parboil until tender six lamb's hearts. When tender slice in thin slices, remove all pipes and veins and cover with a well-made smooth and rather highly seasoned tomato sauce. Serve on a hot dish garnished with toast sippets, parsley and potato puffs.

BEGGAR SCHOOL IN MOSCOW HAS 8,000 STUDENTS

Moscow, July 12.—Instruction in the science and technique of begging, given by the beggars' union of Moscow has produced such excellent results that nearly all the members of the union flatly refuse to give up their profession for jobs, even when work is available. Their average income is from three to five rubles a day—much better pay than any unskilled job they might be offered.

There are approximately 8,000 beggars in the city, of which 61.3 per cent are professional, and the remainder forced into it by loss of property.

Member Increases

The number is constantly increased by peasants who come into the city looking for work only to find that the labor market is over-saturated and there are no jobs.

The union, however, doesn't desert its ranks as soon as work is offered. It is composed of professionals of all ages and degrees of proficiency. They divide the city into districts and each has his beat which he guards jealously against the infringement of outsiders. The president and members of the union are paid a percentage of the members' income, and their task is to raise the standard of the profession and protect it against amateurs.

Beggar Study Languages

Special attention is given by the union to the instruction of blind beggars, children and cripples. They are taught to sing sob songs, to play a few tunes on a dilapidated instrument, and to make the most of

REPORTERS GET BLACK EYES AT SPIRIT SEANCE

Say Human Beings Must Have Given "Shiners" They Now Wear

Mantes, July 12.—Do spirits pack a wallop? Mme. Alexandre, manager for the "medium of Mantes," swear they do. But Masson and Quartier, two Paris journalists come to expose the medium, are dubious. They even state outright that only human beings in the flesh could have given them the black eyes they are now sporting as a result of their attempt.

Locally famous for six years, the "medium of Mantes" had attracted the attention of many scientists and newspaper reporters. It was supposed to be Madeleine, daughter of M. and Mme. Alexandre.

Madeleine died in 1918. But her spirit chose to come around to the home of her parents one day in 1922. Since then it has made regular appearances every Saturday night. To a chosen few, the spirit of young Madeleine divulged secrets of the Beyond. Napoleon himself was on its calling list. It even delivered "Divine" messages.

These spiritualistic seances were held in the sitting room of the Alexandres in this city. The journalists who proved to be the undoing of the show, were ushered into this room, semi-dark, the air thick with the smoke of burning incense. Mrs. Alexandre presided. She evoked the spirit of her late daughter.

Madeleine appeared as per schedule, enveloped in filmy white draperies. She spoke with the voice of a dwarf.

Her approach was the cue for the reporters. Masson grabbed Madeleine's outstretched spirit hands, while Quartier turned a strong flashlight on the spirit face. Lo and behold, the spirit of Madeleine was none other than M. Blaise, handy man and gardener for the Alexandres! Shorn of his white robes, he was nothing but a plain gardener, dunsweater, old fashioned suspenders and all.

If ever there was a fraud, this was one. But the faithful followers of Madeleine could not believe their eyes. Their wrath turned toward the newspapermen, who were jumped upon and severely beaten up. The scribes were lucky to escape without any broken bones.

"It's a lie," Mrs. Alexandre told the judge when the matter came up in police court. "But what about the black eyes these men show in support of their story?" countered the judge.

"Oh, those were given to them by the spirits, angered by their intrusion and ungentlemanly behavior." It is announced that the "medium of Mantes" will not again appear in its home town, at least not for the time being.

Asserting that an electric sign shows her alternately with a full set of teeth and a few stubs Mile. Rachel Devirys, movie actress, brought suit for $6,000 against a photographer.

Soviets See Russia Selling Oil To U. S. In Another 5 Years

Moscow, July 12.—Soviet Russia will be supplying oil to the United States in five years and virtually force America to help in the reconstruction of Russia in order to keep a favorable balance of trade, said Prof. Striejev, noted soviet geologist. At the present rate of wasteful exploitation of the petroleum resources, he asserted, the United States will be without oil in five years. This catastrophe will be the direct result of frenzied competition among oil companies, and the lack of any system of drilling wells with a view towards conserving the supply. Prof. Striejev said he was not unduly impressed by what he had heard was the marvelous technical development of the American oil industry. "Only one principle governs the industry," he said, "and that is getting the maximum production in the minimum of time. Russia can learn a lot from America, but America can also learn from us."

Yet the soviets are making one blunder after another in the construction of a 200-mile pipeline from Baku to Batumi, the oil shipping port on the Black sea, despite the assistance of foreign engineers. The international oil company, a Russian concession, "Ragas," is welding the pipes. Engineers peaced Diesel pumps, but the soviets instead of purchasing them abroad placed the order with the Soviet engine works at Leningrad four months ago.

He said to do so might cost him his job.

COIN CHASING PUTS CULTURE ON TOBOGGAN

That's View of American Educator, Dr. Duggan; Sees World Decline

Rome, July 12.—Modern youth's mania for riches has almost entirely obscured the cultural development of the whole world, according to Dr. Stephen D. Duggan, director of the United States Bureau for International Studies. Dr. Duggan declared this "get-rich-quick" spirit was especially prevalent in the United States. It is not confined to the United States however, he explained, adding: "Europe and the world are threatened by an increasing decline of culture as a result of the economic post-war situation, and the impossibility for the higher middle classes to keep up the traditions of having their sons pursue the professions, and devoting the necessary time and money to a high grade education."

Tour of Europe
Dr. Duggan is making an extensive tour of Europe to study educational conditions. He is planning to visit Perugia where the university of summer courses for foreigners is situated. After that he will travel through northern Italy and will visit Vienna and Budapest.

The American educator referred to France as being in the forefront of European nations promoting cultural development. He explained:

"The French are realizing the seriousness of the menace to cultural education provided by the present-day craze for money and are doing all in their power to redress it by awarding prize scholarships."

"But the young men of today are obsessed by the fever of utilitarian study and the 'get-rich-quick' mania, and take little delight in the things of the spirit."

Dr. Duggan pointed out that the importation of European culture into America was being greatly impeded by the scarcity of European scholars who really know the English language. This is the first essential for a professor from the Continental nations who is expected to instruct American students, he said.

Must Speak English
Unless these brilliant educators from Europe are able to speak the English language, their brilliance is lost, or at least deprived of its value in attempts to communicate it to the average American student.

This subject of cultural education and of the introduction of European culture into the United States, was discussed by Dr. Duggan when he was given an interview by Premier Mussolini. The American educator explained that whereas five years ago only five American universities taught Italian, it was now being taught in 15 of the institutions of higher education throughout the United States. Dr. Duggan credited this increased interest in the "language of Dante" to the efforts of the Italy-America association."

Premier Mussolini in reply said there was a great revival of the study of the English language throughout Italy.

Vision Budapest As Music Lovers Mecca

Budapest, July 12.—Plans are underway to make this city a rival to Bayreuth, home of Wagnerian opera, as the mecca for American music-lovers.

If the project materializes Budapest will give an annual festival of the works of Franz Liszt. It is planned to build a stadium seating 3,000 persons on Margaret Island where sport contests would be held coincidentally with the concerts.

Liszt's famous rhapsodies would be played as accompaniments to ballets and pantomimes.

London's Theatrical Slump Has Producers Worried

London, July 12.—The worst theatrical slump in London's history, blamed in various quarters on high prices, warm weather and vacillating public desire, is causing consternation among producers and actors alike.

No less than 34 plays have "failed" since the beginning of the year. Four ran less than a week, and 13 others stayed on the boards for three weeks at the outside.

The slump has precipitated a violent controversy between certain theatrical producers and Hannen Swaffer, the dramatic critic of one of London's largest daily newspapers, because he called public attention to the situation, and because of this has been charged with broadcasting "publicity harmful to the stage."

The worst of the situation is that the producers, unlike those in New York, do not realize that May, June, July and August have always been "slow" months in the theaters and they keep putting one play on after another, in the hope that one may catch the popular appeal and achieve a successful run.

Several Withdrawn
Several plays have been withdrawn after a few performances and sent bag and baggage into the provinces, in the hope of recouping their losses. Often the casts are unchanged, so that England has the unprecedented spectacle of supposed West End stars playing the "tank towns" at one quarter their price.

Never has the theatrical situation been so bad. Basil Dean, a prominent producer, blames it on the public.

"Nobody knows what the theater public wants," he declared. "I wish I did. I'd be a very wealthy man in six months."

"Sex and crime plays such as we have had and are having now are merely entertainment. More and more, as the theaters are being commercialized, the thoughtful type
